The New England Primer

A BIBLIOGRAPHY

by Charles F. Heartman

148p., 37 illus., 8vo.    300 copies printed.    $10.00

from A REVIEW by R. W. G. Vail

Librarian of The American Antiquarian Society

THE NEW ENGLAND PRIMER certainly deserves the title of "The Greatest Little Book in America," for it probably had a more profound influence on the upbringing of our ancestors than any other volume except the Bible.

The popularity of the New England Primer is shown by its long life and its many editions. It was read and studied in the sixteen hundreds and was still being used as late as the Civil War. No book as popular as this can be ignored either by the historian or the collector, and so we cordially welcome Mr. Heartman's bibliography of the subject which has just appeared.

This excellent volume is indispensable to every collector, librarian, and bookseller interested in Americana. Though a third edition, it has been so thoroughly revised and so greatly enlarged that it is virtually a new work.

This third edition of the bibliography is in every way an improvement over the earlier editions. It not only locates ninety-five more issues, but it corrects many errors of the second edition. Duplications of entry have been eliminated and the dating of undated issues has become more exact.

Though there are not as many facsimiles of titles as in the second edition, the reduction of the cost by one-third and the greater ease with which the new volume may be consulted, more than makes up for the loss of illustrations which are hardly necessary in any case since complete lined-off titles are given.

This edition is a compact octavo, beautifully printed by the Walpole Printing Office of New Rochelle, and attractively and durably bound in brown buckram.

Considerable new material appears in the interesting introductory pages, and the usefulness of the volume is greatly enhanced by the addition of two indices, one of printers, publishers, and booksellers, and one of places of publication.

PREFACE

WITH the present volume, American Book-Prices Current celebrates its Fourth Decade, giving the fortieth annual published record of auction sales of rare books in the American market, and offering thereby a standard of evaluation to all persons interested in the worth of books, whether the interest be in a collection already acquired, or in buying anew, or in selling. It covers a fascinating story of growth in appreciation of this class of literature, as seen in the building up of new libraries and the enrichment of those of permanent establishment through opportunities given by the dispersal of collections which had been made with discrimination. This is forcibly recalled when, following upon such American sales as those of the Brinley, Menzies, and Barlow collections, we note, among the offerings of our forty-year record, those from the libraries of Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, Henry W. Poor, J. Chester Chamberlain, Robert Hoe, W. H. Lambert, Lucius L. Hubbard, Gen. Brayton Ives, M. C. D. Borden, John B. Thacher, Adrian H. Joline, Henry E. Huntington, John L. Clawson, Herschel V. Jones, James Carleton Young, George D. Smith, Samuel P. Avery, Henry F. DePuy, Henry W. Closson, E. J. Wendell, Theodore L. DeVinne, W. T. Wallace, H. Buxton Forman, Edwin B. Holden, C. F. Libbie, William L. Andrews, Herman LeRoy Edgar, Theodore N. Vail, Henry Cady Sturges, William H. Gable, John Quinn, Mrs. Phoebe Boyle, Gideon Wells, Stephen H. Wakeman, Wm. Harris Arnold, Beverly Chew, R. B. Adam, George Barr McCutcheon, Charles M. Kozlay, Otto H. F. Vollbehr, Jerome Kern, John C. Williams, F. W. Lehmann, B. George Ulizio, the Marquess of Lothian, Ida O. Folsom, Levi Z. Leiter, and Willis Vickery, with others in the season covered by the present volume.

In its record, American Book-Prices Current does not present a mere check list, such as might be offered for sale at comparatively low price, but with little resultant profit to the user. To give varying prices for copies of the same work without indication of varying conditions would produce a report of small value. The practical scheme of its descriptions, as planned years ago by Luther R. Livingston, has resulted in a guide, not only to prices, but to those bibliographical points which distinguish editions. While appreciating the humor of a notice which once called the book "about as interesting as the telephone directory," persons most familiar with its pages find—if in nothing else, in the light which they throw upon history, biography, and bibliography—matter of great interest, condensed, though it be, to index form and phrased in abbreviations, in order to cover its wide range and to give reference in tabulated order. As is well known, American Book-Prices Current is a cumulative series and volumes of previous years should be used with that of the latest issue for best comparison and conclusion. Bibliographic information and accuracy should necessarily result from the care and study given by makers of auction catalogues and by those embodying therefrom the condensed report constituted by this publication and it has been the satisfaction of its publishers to find that it is consulted as well for bibliographic data as for practical aid in the matter of valuation.

Through the above forty years the trend of price was one of steady rise, until the recent period of financial depression, suffered by literature in common with other property—but always with this difference, that a rare work in prime condition, even in darkest times, has held its own and has found a ready purchaser. While much good material has been withheld from sale in this time of general depression, great items and great collections have appeared and it is significant that, when offered, they have met with hearty response. Although marked by extreme caution on the part of auctioneers and purchasers, there has been no season in this unfortunate era unmarked by record prices. The era reached its disheartening depth in 1932-33, when an upward trend occurred, resulting in the record which the current volume of American Book-Prices presents. Impetus for the upturn has been traced to policies of the largest of the New York auction houses, when ventures were made in a season (1933-34) not signalized by ventures in general business lines, but which have been admittedly justified in this case. The financial return for this particular house was nearly double that of 1932-33. The return for the entire American book-auction market for 1933-34 as reckoned in quantity and price, is sometimes stated as representing an advance of twenty-five percent over that of the preceding year.

In the following report of the 1933-34 record, quotations from title-pages, covering, as they do, more of the famous, or better-known items, are given at somewhat less length than those in the preceding volume, incidentally providing space for entry of the increased number of items which the volume will be found to include. At the same time, in the careful comparison with original titles, points of edition, etc. given each item through authentic bibliographic reference, no abbreviation has been used and no point has consciously been neglected which would result in failure to give the user of the volume every aid possible in identification of works listed.

Early sales of Americana included A Letter from New-England, 1682, bringing $575, and a 1735 Indian Treaty, $675; and, among the incunabula of the year, an early sale produced Saint Bonaventura's Meditationes, Augsburg, 1468, at $625.

The 70 sales of the year included the Library of the late Charles P. Senter of St. Louis, producing works of special interest through their association with Eugene Field; the Library of the late Edward Dean Richmond; Manuscripts and Books from the collections of Robert H. Tannahill of Detroit and Carroll Carstairs of New York City; a fresh consignment, General Literature, from the Library of the late Levi Z. Leiter, embracing a series of the first five editions of The Compleat Angler; Historical Americana from the Libraries of Edmund A. Funke and Dr. William Sturgis Thomas, including a series of official copies of Massachusetts Session Laws, 1673-80, bringing $4875; the Library of the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, which included over 100 works by Ruskin in the bindings of Cobden-Sanderson, and a manuscript by Longfellow, which sold for $1100.

Two sales of books and manuscripts from the Imperial Libraries of Russia, though failing to find the financial response in this market which their provenance merited, produced works of diversified range and, of course, great association interest, many of the books containing inscriptions by members of royal families and lesser personages of Russia. The largest price of these sales, $500, was brought by Gabriel Senac de Meilhan's L'Emigré, 1797.

The more notable sales of the season occurred after Christmas, the first of these, held January 4-5, including as its rare lot—also the lot of the season—The Star-Spangled Banner, which brought a price of $24000. Other items bringing their highest price of the last ten years were Bourrienne's Mémoires, 1829, at $510; Real Life in London, in original parts, 1821-22, $550; A History of the University of Oxford, 1813-15, and A History of the University of Cambridge, 1814-16 (each work in original parts and each with its supplementary volume of portraits) at $1700 and $1800 respectively. An autograph letter signed by Sir Francis Bacon brought $700; a letter signed by Dickens, $500; and a document signed by Sir Francis Drake, Sir John Hawkins and Lord Burghley, $600.

The 286 items of the Collection of Paul Hyde Bonner, sold on February 15 and 16, included some important offerings. Mentioning only those bringing prices making their record for the last ten years, we note Blake's Illustrations of the Book of Job, 1825 [1826]—proofs on India paper, with imprint—which sold at $575; Uncle Tom's Cabin, 1852, with A Key to Uncle Tom's Cabin, 1853, at $1025; Poe's Poems, 1831, at $3400; and the Beaconsfield-MacGeorge-Bonner copy of Blake's Visions of the Daughters of Albion [1794]—plates highly colored in opaque pigment and water color—at $5200. A manuscript of an unfinished poem, Genesis: the Seven Days of the Created World, in Blake's hand, sold for $1025. Except for the copy in the Kern sale, in 1929, a copy of the first issue of Shelley's Revolt of Islam, at $775, brought its highest price for this ten-year period.

On April 4-5 an important collection of Books and Manuscripts from the William K. Bixby collection, with works from other well-known libraries, brought a number of high prices, the following establishing records: the first issue of Huckleberry Finn, 1885, $650; the Oxford-Cambridge-Winchester, Eton, and Westminster five-volume series, 1814-15-16, $850; The Last of the Mohicans, 1826, $700; a 1743 manuscript "Derrotero" (map) of the California coast line, $1500; a manuscript collection of 1865, covering the Sherman-Johnston correspondence upon terms of peace, $3000; while the 1869 Lorna Doone at $775—the copy which brought $165 at auction in 1925—and a manuscript by Tennyson at $925 represented record figures, except for those of the Kern sale in 1929.

The most important sale of the season, Part I of the Library of the late Dr. Roderick Terry of Newport, occurred on May 2 and 3, when a selection of some 360 items representative of the varied range of this Library brought an average price of $466, the pieces of higher quality bringing prices quite up to the standard for any season and again recalling the reflection that material of this nature always finds a good market. The group included literature and manuscript matter covering five centuries, rare incunabula, Americana, literature from the time of a 1465 issue of Cicero to that of first editions of Shelley, illuminated manuscripts, autographs from the pens of reigning monarchs and famous men throughout these dates to those of the present day and, for the first time since 1927, a complete set of autographs of signers of the Declaration of Independence. Items making record prices here include the Summa de articulis fidei of Saint Thomas Aquinas, $1100; De Arte Prædicandi of Saint Augustine, $725; the Commentarii of Cæsar, 1469, $3300; the 1465 De Officiis of Cicero, $2100; his 1470 Rhetorica, $4000; the Florence, 1481 Divina Commedia, $2750; the Ulm, 1482 Cosmographia of Ptolemy, $3000, and a 1503 Book of Hours, $800. A copy of Montalboddo's Paesi Nouamente retrouati, 1507, brought $2600; an imperfect copy of the Hakluyt Divers Voyages, 1582, $2600. Capt. John Smith's Description of New England, 1616, $875; his Advertisements for the unexperienced Planters of New-England, 1631, $900; and his True Travels, 1630, $575. George Mourt's Relation of the proceedings of the Plimouth Plantation, 1622, was sold for $2500; Morton's New English Canaan, 1637, for $425; and John Eliot's translation of the New Testament into Indian language, 1661, for $825, the completed Bible (the foregoing imprint of the New Testament with that of the Old Testament published 2 years later), for $3800. The King Philip War Narrative, News from New-England, 1676, brought $575; and Mason's Brief History of the Pequot War, 1736, $825. Among the literary material, the 1596 Prothalamion of Spenser sold at $1400, the 1600 [1619] Midsommer nights dreame, at $2100; Bryant's Embargo, 1808, $950; Byron's Curse of Minerva, 1812, $1450; Lamb's Tales from Shakspear, 1807, $3100; and the 1813 Queen Mab, $700. Among the autographs, a letter by Galileo to Cosimo de' Medici sold at $975; a letter of Mary, Queen of Scots, at $1200; a receipt by Michelangelo, $400; a letter of Rubens, $500; a document signed by Miles Standish, $650; and 2 pieces by Poe, at $675 and $1200 respectively.

Ten sales in May, following the above, included the Library of the late Mrs. Whitelaw Reid; property of the late Mrs. Benjamin Stern, William L. Clements, and E. W. Evans; and a collection of Cyrillic and Pomorian manuscripts with books from the collection of Albert E. Jones. Late sales produced a copy of the first editions of Poe's Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym, (New York), selling at $700, and The Raven, at $625; and a copy of The General Laws and Liberties of the Massachusetts Colony, 1672, at $800.

As this volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the publication, the following explanation of its scheme is reprinted from earlier issues.

The name of the author, or the main heading, is set in bold-face capitals. As a rule, Club and Press publications are listed under the name of the club or press in question; and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are given subject entries.

The titles of various works under these main entries are printed in bold-face type, capitals and lower case. The subsequent matter, the description, printed in light-face type, is in two portions, the first, including the imprint—place, printer, date—and size of volume, is general and applies to all copies of the work listed.

The second portion of the description, applying specifically to the copy of the book sold (each lot beginning a new line), is made up as follows: (1) a description of the binding; (2) a statement as to the condition of this copy—if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.; (3) capital (key) letter, referring to the Chronological List of Sales at the beginning of this volume and indicating the name and date of the sale; (4) the lot number of the sale catalogue; (5) the price realized, that is, the price per lot and not per volume.

Cont. cf., in lev. mor. case by Riviere (bound in is "Poems" by A. H. Hallam, 1830. Auction catalogue notes: "The present copy is the only one known which contains the 174 pages of Hallam's Poems bound up with Tennyson's; the volume is thus in the form originally planned. A contemporary hand, probably that of Henry Hallam, has added the words '& Arthur Hallam' beneath Tennyson's name on the title-page, and, on the first page of the second part: 'Poems, by Arthur Hallam, Esq.' Pencilled notes throughout the volume indicate the persons to whom certain verses were addressed, e.g., 'F. H. Doyle,' 'J. Milnes Gaskell,' 'Richard Milnes,' etc. These notes are believed to be in the handwriting of Henry Hallam . . . That this was Hallam's own copy is attested by the fact that it is the only copy in its original format known to be in existence; intimate knowledge of the author's friendships betrayed in the MS. notes, Sister, 'E. H. F. from Aunt Julia, March, 1859.' Henry Hallam, the historian and father of the poet, died in January, 1859. He, doubtless, kept this unique copy of his dead son's only book safe in his own keeping until his death, when, as may be seen by the presentation inscription quoted above, his daughter passed it on to a descendant."').
